The branch, known then as The Royal Commonwealth Society Barbados Branch, was formally established as a Charitable Trust and registered as Charity No. 904 on 19th December 2011. In recognition of Barbados' transition from a constitutional monarchy to a parliamentary republic, the name of the charity was changed on 5th April 2024 to The Commonwealth Society of Barbados and RCS Barbados designated as the short form of the name.

RCS Barbados is a member of the international network of RCS branches and affiliated societies who are committed to promoting the value of the Commonwealth, and the values contained in the Commonwealth Charter, for the betterment of the lives and prospects of the 2.5 billion citizens of the 56 member countries of the Commonwealth and, in particular, for the benefit of the youth.

Membership of RCS Barbados is open to any adult Barbadian, Commonwealth or other citizen who satisfy the governing body, acting in its sole discretion, that they are suitable to be admitted to membership. Members comprise a cross-section of the populace but tend to be persons who have an association with other Commonwealth countries through citizenry, study, work or leisure, even though this is not a requirement for membership. Members are expected to have an appreciation of the importance of the value and values of the Commonwealth in shaping the lives of young people and be prepared to volunteer their knowledge, skills and time to promoting and realising that importance among the youth of Barbados.

RCS Barbados considers the encouragement of youth participation and leadership as integral across the work of the RCS, whose networks and programmes serve to engender confidence, encourage leadership skills and raise awareness of the roles and responsibilities for young citizens. RCS Barbados helps to invigorate and bring relevance to the Commonwealth and to its future well-being. RCS Barbados continues to develop outreach programmes aimed at working in schools, other institutions of learning and with a broad spectrum of young people to reveal the value and the values of the Commonwealth to new generations.

The RCS of today has evolved into a group of over 60 self-governing branches and affiliated societies, each responsible for their own affairs and programmes, comprising a total membership of more than 22,000 persons spread across many of the member countries and territories of the Commonwealth, including Barbados.

Internationally, the strength of the RCS lies in its independence which gives it the freedom to work at the forefront of contentious and politically difficult issues and, when coupled with its influence in bringing people, governments, the diplomatic community and business together, enables it to champion best practices in social well-being as well as to highlight the barriers that inhibit prosperity and civil rights and limit opportunities. In the past the RCS has been a key influence on the anti–apartheid movement providing a platform for leaders such as Nelson Mandela; in recent times, it has played a central role in addressing gender equality prejudices and the challenges of corruption and good governance.

Further information and details on the RCS can be found on their website at www.royalcwsociety.org.

ABOUT THE WORK OF RCS BARBADOS

The fundamental values of the Commonwealth as enshrined in the Commonwealth Charter of 2012, are all relevant to young people and their development and especially so as we now live in an increasingly interconnected world. RCS Barbados is committed to bringing awareness to these values at a citizen and community level and believes that if all citizens and communities embraced, owned and acted upon the values, it would result in a better world for all.

Projects

Projects conceptualized or supported by RCS Barbados encourage young people to engage with each other in exchanges and youth volunteer programmes, in creative writing and media communications. By encouraging young people to become aware of their role as global citizens, RCS Barbados helps to give enduring strength to the Commonwealth. Some of these projects are:

● The Commonwealth Day Observance, which is held on Commonwealth Day celebrated on the second Monday in March and involves the active participation of primary and secondary school students. This event is modeled on a similar Multi-Faith Observance which, since 1966, has taken place at Westminster Abbey in London on Commonwealth Day. It includes religious readings, meditations and prayers by members of different faiths, anthems by school choirs and the reading of a Commonwealth Day message by the Head of State of Barbados, who is the Patron of RCS Barbados.

● The Queen's Commonwealth Essay Competition involves primary and secondary school students. This is the world's oldest and largest schools' international writing contest, named after H. M. Queen Elizabeth II and engaging thousands of young people from across the Commonwealth since 1883. It is managed annually by the RCS in London and supported by RCS Barbados.

● The Commonwealth Conversations involves university and other tertiary institution students. Named after a 2009 RCS initiative which allowed for public discourse on reforms of Commonwealth institutions, this interactive discussion session started in 2012 in partnership with the Office of Student Services of the Cave Hill Campus of the University of the West Indies.

● The Sir Clifford Husbands Agricultural Challenge involves secondary school students studying agricultural science. Launched in 2013, and named after a former Patron of RCS Barbados, this annual competition is aimed at encouraging students who have an interest in agriculture. In the past, it has included an 'Agriculture is Food' cooking competition and an 'Eat Fit, Live Fit, Be Fit' fitness session.

● The Commonwealth Exercise Book Scheme for primary and secondary school students was launched in 2013 by distributing to every school child in Barbados a copy of a specially designed informative exercise book. This initiative seeks to increase diffusion of knowledge about the Commonwealth through the distribution of a copy of the exercise book to every new entrant to each of the island's primary and secondary schools.

● The Commonwealth Parade of Flags was launched in 2014 in celebration of the 375th anniversary of the Barbados Parliament. It comprises a march through Bridgetown by uniformed youth groups carrying the flags of the Commonwealth which are afterwards hoisted and flown for a day in the courtyard of Parliament.

● The Commonwealth Christmas Tree Project was launched in 2014 in Independence Square as 'Christmas in the Square'. It is RCS Barbados' most ambitious project comprising the placement of illuminated Christmas trees in Bridgetown, each decorated by nursery, primary and secondary school students, using recycled and natural materials, to reflect the features and emblems of the countries of the Commonwealth. It is supplemented by carol singing and other musical presentations involving schools, youth groups and emerging artistes. A smaller project launched in 2018 as 'Christmas in the Air' places similar illuminated trees at the Grantley Adams International Airport.

● The Commonwealth Relay was launched in association with the Barbados Olympic Association in 2015 in celebration of the 30th anniversary of RCS Barbados. It comprises a run along the south coast of Barbados by teams of secondary school students, each team representing a country of the Commonwealth, and culminates with a street parade and cultural presentation at the Garrison Savannah.

● The RCS 150 Trophy was launched in 2018 in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the formation of the RCS. This trophy, sculpted from mahogany depicting humanity embracing, is awarded to the team, competing at the Barbados Secondary Schools Athletic Championships, which best exemplifies the Commonwealth values of teamwork, sportsmanship, fair play and respect for rules and authority between genders.

● The Sir Elliott Belgrave Creative Communication Shield was launched in 2018 and is named after a former Patron of RCS Barbados. This initiative is aimed at primary and secondary school students and provides a forum for the expression of their creativity in communication through the media of writing and art.
