ULTRASOUND, FLYING JENNY REMATCH IN MIDSUMMER CLASSIC

It is expected to be a competitive renewal of the Grade1 Midsummer Classic, the second leg of the Triple Crown, with the Guineas winner Ultrasound and runner-up Flying Jenny taking centre stage amidst a field of 10 3-year-olds.

The running of the Midsummer Classic is slated as Race 7 on an 8-race card with a post time of 3.00 PM.

Ultrasound looks to keep his Triple Crown hopes alive. He is a son of Dorsett. From his seven career starts, he has three wins, two second places and one third. After failing to make the top four in his seasonal debut on February 14, he returned to his best to capture the Grade 1 Barbados Guineas, defeating the unbeaten Flying Jenny.

Jockey Jarelle Beckles will look to engineer another winning ride on Ultrasound.

Dominic and Charmaine Cox's Flying Jenny will look to turn the tables on Ultrasound. She has never finished off the board in four starts.

Flying Jenny is one of two Midsummer entrants trained by Andrew Nunes, who also sends out Undeniable.

Flying Jenny, a daughter of Stockyard entered the Guineas unbeaten in three starts. However, she failed by a length to reel in Ultrasound, settling for second best. Trainer Andrew Nunes has booked jockey Antonio Bishop for the ride.

Pavlova missed the Guineas but stands out among the contenders. Trained by Kenny John, she has a solitary win from four starts and will be ridden by Eric Daniel.

Trainer Remel Lovell will saddle the pair of Makers Mark and Relentless for Melrose Racing.

Makers Mark turned in her maiden certificate in her last start 14 days ago in her third try after being third and second in her first two races, while Relentless also broke his maiden in his third try.
