Sir Garfield Sobers was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II at the Garrison Savannah on February 19, 1975, in recognition of his legendary contributions to cricket.

The Right Excellent Sir Garfield St. Auburn Sobers
July 28, 1936 – July 17, 2026

Sir Garfield Sobers did not light-up the race tracks of the world. But those close to him knew that horse racing was the second love of the cricketing maestro in his heyday.

The Barbados Turf Club and Barbadian race fans were always more than happy to welcome him when he visited the Garrison Savannah.

Not only was Sir Garfield Sobers a race fan but at one stage he took his interest to another level as a horse owner.

In 1967- 1968 he teamed up with his cricketing buddies Wes Hall and Peter Lashley to acquire the well-bred English filly, Curfew. News of this generated excitement even beyond the horse racing industry. Everybody was talking about Curfew, Gary's horse, and could not wait to see her run.

The ownership syndicate, not surprisingly, adopted the name Mr. Windies and the jockey silks of course incorporated the colours of maroon, black and white reflecting the uniform of the West Indies cricket team.

Curfew was very fast filly but her share of challenges restricted her career to just a few starts and nothing to report in the win or place column. While she did not 'ketchafire' the track, every time the filly went to post she had the full support and heavy backing of the Barbadian race fans. Some just came to see her run but she would fly for three or four furlongs before fading among the also ran.

Curfew did not make a name for herself or her team on the race track, but her only foal, a filly called Dewali, produced a number of winners.

Sir Gary later teamed up again with close friend, legendary fast bowler Wes Hall, as owners of the colt Cruise Missile. He was a more than useful performer on the track with one of his four victories coming in the Barbados Juvenile Champion Stakes.

Some of Sir Gary's friends would tell you that he enjoyed betting on the horses. He would use any opportunity whilst on tour to take in racing and enjoy a good punt.

Sir Gary's horse racing connections went beyond the Garrison touching the world. It's understood that he had a great friendship with legendary British champion jockey the late Lester Piggott.

Sir Gary may not have written his great name on the pages of horse racing history but whenever he visited the track at the Garrison, he generated electricity. This was evident by the number of people that were always around him; some sharing with him the horses they fancied in a particular race.

The Barbados Turf Club and the entire horse racing fraternity in Barbados, across the Caribbean and around the world join in celebrating the life and times of this National Hero, great international sportsman and we may even say statesman. Rest in Peace Sir Gary.

Base bet is BB$1.00 for Win, Place, Exacta, (*Place is 1st, 2nd & 3rd). Base bet is BB$0.50 for Trifecta, Superfecta, Soca Six, Pick-4 & Hi-5
